

Snake River Sportsmen High power Rifle Club Clinic

Snake River Sportsmen will sponsor a High Power Rifle Club clinic Saturday, April 14, 2007 At SRS Vale Oregon Range starting at 9:00 AM, sign up 8:30 AM. Cost will be $15.00 per individual attending Saturday and $20.00 Sunday (Sunday is an NRA Approved Match so scores count for classification)

The Clinic will be taught by Don Curtis and Michael Ellway, Master Class and High Master Class, competitors with about forty years of national level competition between them.

The class will consist of a lecture and demonstration for about three to four Hours, covering such subjects as equipment, positions, reading the wind, keeping a score book/diary and strategy for shooting all four stages of high-power rifle competition. The second portion of the day will be spent on live fire exercises at 200 yards involving the four stages of high power competition with shooters receiving individual instruction from the instructors.

We will follow this up with an 800 aggregate match Sunday, April 8, 2007 at the same location.

This will be shot at the standard ranges of 200.300 and 600 yards. For individuals who attended the Clinic coaching will be allowed in this match only.

SRS will have a number of M-1 Garands and a number of AR-15 match rifles, ammunition for both will be available. (Ammunition cost will be 20 cents/ round for the M-2 Ball for the M-1's and 25 cents a round for the AR-15 ammunition) On Saturday I would expect to fire about 44 rounds and on Sunday 88 rounds. Brass is yours to keep.

This is an excellent way to get a real leg up on high power rifle competition. You can probably pick up more information in one or two days here than you would ever get in four or five years of trying on your own and not pick up a lot of bad habits on the way.
